Hebrew Scripture/Old Testament
online/ Barbara Thiede
There is no such thing as "The Bible." But there is a fascinating story behind the creation of ancient biblical literature. In this class, we will look at the linguistic, historical, and archeological evidence that helps scholars understand who wrote biblical literature and why. We explore the writers' sense of humor and political agendas and discover how later readers reinvented biblical texts. -Historical or Textual Analysis

RELS 2105-001
MWF 12:20-1:10/ David Clausen
Our earliest written sources about the Christ-faith are contained in the 27 books of the New Testament. When were they written? Who wrote them? We will conduct historical and textual investigations of the gospels, Acts, and the letters of Paul and others in order to reveal the various ways in which they understood the Christ-event. We will consider such questions as: Why are the gospels so similar in some respects and yet so different in others? What are the obstacles for rediscovering the historical Jesus? What was Paul’s real message and why was it so often challenged? -Historical or Textual Analysis

RELS 2120-001
Christianity

Early Christianity
MW 2:30-3:45/David Clausen
The Christian church has been the most powerful religious, political, social, cultural, economic, and intellectual institution in the history of Western civilization. Yet the Christian movement did not start out as a culturally significant phenomenon; it began in a remote part of the Roman Empire as a small, lower-class group of followers of a Jewish apocalyptic preacher, crucified as an enemy of the state. How did Christianity become the preferred religion of a Roman emperor and grow to embrace an empire? Trace the early centuries of Christianity from Christ to Constantine.

RELS 3116-001
Paul
MW 1:25-2:15/David Clausen
Paul, self-proclaimed “apostle to the Gentiles,” was and remains a most controversial figure in Christianity. The latest perspective on Paul seeks to understand this gifted, first-century missionary and theologian not as the creator of a new religion but as a devout Jew who felt divinely chosen to bring the Gentiles to a right standing with the God of Israel before the return of Messiah Jesus. We will explore Paul’s life and mission, writings and rhetoric, challenges and legacy. Along the way we will become familiar with the world of Paul: the customs, cultures, politics, and locations which provide the background for understanding his life and times.

Senior Seminar

T 2:30-5:15/Letha Victor

Senior Seminar is the capstone course for religious studies majors. What is it that you do in religious studies? What is “religion” and how does one identify a “religious” object, event, or practice? What is the difference between the training one receives in religious studies and the training offered in seminaries or divinity schools? Through a critical evaluation of recently published books in the field of “religious studies,” we will map and articulate possible answers to the questions above.
- Oral and writing intensive
